National Capital Region Transportation Planning Board (TPB)

TPB Purpose

The TPB is responsible for coordinating transportation planning at the regional level and developing the 25-year transportation plan for Northern Virginia, Suburban Maryland and the District of Columbia. The TPB brings together key decision makers to coordinate planning and funding for the region's transportation system.

TPB Membership

Members of the TPB include representatives of the transportation agencies of the states of Maryland and Virginia and the District of Columbia, local governments, the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA), the Maryland and Virginia General Assemblies, and non-voting members from the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority and federal agencies.

Access for All Advisory Committee (AFA)

AFA Purpose

The Access for All Advisory Committee advises the TPB on transportation issues, programs, policies, and services that are important to low-income communities, minority communities and people with disabilities. The mission of this committee is to identify concerns of low-income and minority populations and persons with disabilities, and to determine whether and how these issues might be addressed within the TPB process.

AFA Membership

The committee membership is composed of TPB-appointed community leaders from around the region. A list of the organizations committee members represent is below. The committee also includes ex-officio representation from five key transportation agencies that are active in the TPB process— the District Department of Transportation, the Maryland Department of Transportation, the Virginia Department of Transportation, the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority, the Federal Transit Administration and the Federal Highway Administration.
