Background / Executive Summary

Bike to Work Day (BTWD) has been held annually in the Washington metropolitan region for over two decades and was originally started by the Washington Area Bicyclist Association (WABA) with a rallying point or “pit stop” in downtown DC. In September 2000, The National Capital Region Transportation Planning Board’s (TPB) Commuter Connections program, housed at the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments (COG), partnered with WABA to form a regional Bike to Work Day Steering Committee to examine the feasibility of adding additional Bike to Work Day pit stops throughout the region. In 2001, the expanded event created a greater awareness of bicycling to work as a viable commuting alternative.

Since that first regional Bike to Work Day, annual registrations have grown exponentially over the years. More than 12,700 participants registered for the May 15, 2025, event, which was held on a Thursday for the first time ever, to accommodate for those who would typically telework on Fridays and otherwise not participate. Each local pit stop offered free refreshments, T-shirts, and other giveaways to cyclists. Many pit stops had additional activities for bicyclists and are described later in this report.

Commuter Connections provided the following resources for Bike to Work Day 2025:

- Developed a comprehensive marketing effort that included a comprehensive paid media campaign, printed materials such as posters and rack cards, and email marketing to employers and previous participants. Vinyl banner artwork template was also created.
- Updated and maintained the official event web site and social media accounts.
- 18,000 free T-shirts for all registered participants.

Additional outreach for Bike to Work Day 2025 included:

- Promoting the event through WABA’s membership.
- Local marketing efforts by the pit stop managers.
- An earned media campaign to pitch news outlets and like-minded organizations through COG’s Office of Communications and WABA.
- Bicycles donated for the regional raffle from BicycleSPACE, Bikes@Vienna, and Handy Bikes.

Since 2000, the COG/TPB’s Commuter Connections program has worked to increase awareness of bicycling to work as a viable commuting option by joining with WABA in their efforts to promote and coordinate the region’s annual Bike to Work Day event. Although bicycling to work accounts for a small percentage of the overall regional commute mode split, the two-wheeled commute helps reduce traffic congestion, improves air quality, and provides a healthy travel alternative for commuters who choose to use it as a sustainable means of transportation to and from work.

We started with looming rain clouds on a misty morning at the Rockville-Fallsgrove 2025 BTWD pit stop at Thomas Farm Community Center, located in Fallsgrove Stream Valley Park and right on the Carl Henn Millennium Trail. Spirits were high and we were excited to welcome residents of the local community and commuters to businesses surrounding the Life Sciences Corridor. It was another very successful BTWD at the Largo/Kettering/Perrywood Community Center pit stop! The Prince George's County Department of Public Works & Transportation in partnership with the M-NCPPC Department of Parks and Recreation and Prince George's County co-hosted the BTWD pit stop at the Community Center in Upper Marlboro, MD on Thursday, May 15, 2025. Mount Rainier is a key location for bicycling in Prince George's County, serving as the connection between Washington, D.C. and the Anacostia Trail Network. It was great to see cyclists passing through the pit stop and learning about available resources the Bike Co-op offers! The pit stop had 25 registrants, but an additional 9 riders visited to grab pastries, granola bars, cold drinks and giveaways like bike bells, lights, and patch kits. Mount Rainier Councilmembers Joseph Jakuta and Jenny Hoffpauir were able to join Green Team Chair Sarah Lifsey and Bike Co-Op volunteer Matt Carl during the event.

MD Prince George's Co Port Towns Edmonston

MD Prince George's Co University of Maryland

The University of Maryland, College Park's Department of Transportation Services (DOTS) hosted a pit stop featuring 90 registrants and around 50 attendees. On a morning ride with fellow UMD staff, we spotted a rare sight - our namesake, the Terrapin turtle, walking along the Anacostia Tributary Trail. Go Terps! Later, we teamed up with WABA to pass out colorful commuter gear donated by Metro, bicycle tattoos, BikeUMD safety gear, along with new bicycle maps and guides. We helped attendees with trip planning and registering for our commuter services, training, and programs. It was a fun way to close out the semester for our students, faculty, and staff!

VA Arlington Co Ballston

Over the years, BikeArlington's Ballston pit stop has become an all-ages affair, with dozens of next-generation riders representing the famed Escuela Key Elementary School Bicibus (bike train) joining hundreds of veteran bike commuters to celebrate Bike to Work Day together. 2025 was no exception. Throughout the morning, cyclists from Generation Alpha to Millennials, Generation X to Boomers, took advantage of opportunities to engage with tabling partners, learn about upcoming transportation projects, get free bike checks from Trek mechanics, and amass an array of giveaways, including the official BTWD T-shirt, BikeArlington bike bells, fanny packs, water bottles, stickers, and coupons aplenty. The popularity of this location is not surprising, given the welcoming setting provided by our co-hosts at Trek Bicycle Arlington Ballston, tasty provisions from our good neighbors at Good Company Doughnuts, and the numerous local organizations and businesses who joined the fun. Backed up by highly caffeinated volunteers and a DJ-powered soundtrack, it's easy to see why Ballston was the second largest pit stop in the region this year!

VA Arlington Co National Guard HQ

BTWD was a success, with the National Guard Bureau (NGB) providing refreshments and sustenance. While the event was enjoyable, increased sponsorship next year could enhance the experience with items like bike flashers, water bottles, and route maps. Despite budget limitations, NGB's partnership with the State Department proved valuable. We enjoyed serving the participants and eagerly anticipate next year's event!

VA Arlington Co Langston Blvd

We had an absolute blast hosting Langston's BTWD pit stop! 🚴 ⚡ This is one of our favorite community events, as it is a fun, energizing way to connect with neighbors, support sustainable commuting, and celebrate the use of pedal power. A huge shoutout to Lyon Village Shopping Center Cold Stone Creamery for keeping everyone cool and refreshed with their delicious treats!

To top it all off, we gave away bike swag galore and a grand prize $1,000 gift card to Conte's Bike Shop!

VA Arlington Co Rosslyn at Gateway Park

The scene at BikeArlington's Rosslyn BTWD pit stop felt like a family reunion, with hundreds of cyclists reconnecting throughout the morning as they enjoyed coffee and breakfast treats from McDonald's and Good Company Doughnuts, availed themselves of bike checks courtesy of Trek Bicycle Arlington Clarendon, and grooved to tunes played by a DJ celebrating his 10th year at this pit stop. Longtime tabling partners offered the latest active transportation and community resources, while energetic volunteers handed out BTWD T-shirts and giveaways. Thanks to the gracious hospitality of the Rosslyn Business Improvement District and the BID's "Ambassadors" team, unwavering support of Arlington County's Department of Parks and Recreation, and plentiful opportunities for interactions with County Board members and staff, Gateway Park was the place to be—and the largest pit stop in the region—on BTWD 2025.

VA Arlington Co Shirlington

Returning to Shirlington Plaza for the second year in a row and fortified by the enthusiastic support of Astro Doughnuts as co-host, promoter, and purveyor of fresh doughnuts and coffee,

BikeArlington's Shirlington pit stop offered a neighborly vibe that attracted local and DMV commuters alike. New tabling partners WETA-TV and Acme Pie Co. joined long-time community institutions like the Animal Welfare League of Arlington and Arlington Food Assistance Center to deliver nourishment for mind and body alike. Free bike checks offered by mechanics from Conte's Bike Shop, information on Arlington County's new e-bike voucher program, and the support of friendly volunteers made for a welcoming and festive atmosphere for all.

The Carlyle pit stop was a wonderful success as the location celebrated its 15th year of BTWD! While this year's shift to Thursday may not have brought the turnout hoped for, the enthusiasm and community support made up for it. The weather cooperated, and the energy on-site was incredible, thanks to our amazing sponsors, volunteers, and participants.

Event highlights from the day included live raffles every 15 minutes, a breakfast bar hosted by District Biscuit, stretch breaks led by Yoga Six and special guests Vice Mayor Sarah Bagley and Councilman Canek Aguirre on hand to help with raffle drawings. Our generous sponsors provided everything from gift cards to unique raffle items, making our 15th year one to remember. We're incredibly grateful for their donated time, prizes, and presence to make the day special!

VA City of Alexandria National Landing at APTA

The APTA Potomac Yard BTWD pit stop was held in the afternoon, from 4-6PM. The Parkinson Foundation of the National Capital Area and the Alexandria Bicycle and Walking Coalition were on hand to give out info to cyclists. The biggest hit of the day was from Buzz Bakeshop in Alexandria, who provided free cookies! In total, 61 cyclists registered for the pit stop, with an additional 24 more showing up during the event.

VA City of Alexandria Old Town at City Hall

The City of Alexandria's GO Alex team greeted nearly 200 cyclists at the Old Town at City Hall BTWD pit stop between 7:30-9:30AM. Despite the threat of rain, the event stayed dry with a touch of humidity and fog. Staff and volunteers provided support with logistics, set-up, check-in, shirt distribution, vendor assistance, stage assistance and manning our food and giveaway tables. The event was truly a team effort, and we are grateful for how our staff and community show up to make this a successful event year after year.

The event had the support of the local community with two bike shops, Conte's Bike and Pedego, participating by offering bike checks. We had local businesses donating fresh coffee, tea, and snacks. There were 26 sponsors for this year's event. The City of Alexandria was a Gold Sponsor for the event, continuing our support and promotion of this day regionally. Local community cycling organizations such as Alexandria BPAC and WABA were present with both recognizing Virginia State Senator Adam Ebbin with an award.

Local businesses showed up with some great giveaways and raffle prizes, including an annual bike service package from Conte's Bike Shop, a weekend staycation package from Residence Inn – Oldtown, a prize pack from Patagonia and swag items from our very own Visit Alexandria.

We had members of Alexandria's City Council join us on stage this year including Vice Mayor Sarah Bagley as well as Councilmembers Canek Aguirre, John Chapman, and Kirk McPike. State Senator Adam Ebbin received a Recognition Award from the Virginia Bicycle Federation (VBF) for his work advocating for policy that keeps cyclists safe. The award was presented by BPAC President Ken Notis and VBF Board Member and WABA Virginia Organizer Kevin O'Brien.

In partnership with our department's communication team, we employed a marketing portfolio that included a custom banner, eNews release, several social media posts, two videos, a dedicated webpage, email blasts to past participants and employers within our ACT! database, direct communication in employer meetings, internal communications to City Staff and street team distribution of posters, flyers and rack cards.

We also worked with the City's Earth Month organizers to include the event in their marketing campaigns. It was a great way to make the connection of how to create a greener, healthier, and more eco-friendly City through the promotion of transportation powered by people and not cars. We were also grateful to have our local businesses, sponsors and organizations promote the event on our behalf.

Special thanks go to the Transportation and Environmental Services Communication Team, Asa Photography, Woodruff Company Engineered Solutions, Alexandria's Transportation Branch, Commuter Connections staff, Dropincity, Events Rentals DC, and DJ Regy Re.

Two of the three Tysons pit stops were new, so we partnered with each other, to encourage bicyclists to hit up more than one stop, earning extra incentives.

TCA staff greeted riders with amazing bike swag, snacks donated by Wegmans and awesome music. Vendors included the Fairfax Alliance for Better Bicycling, VDOT, which promoted the 495 Next Project, and REI, which offered free bike checks. We were a small but mighty group, and we had a great time, especially when Fairfax County Supervisor Walter Alcorn stopped by on his ride to work. We also had two amazing convoys end at our pit stop, both led by bike enthusiasts from the Freddie Mac HQ right up the road. One biked 16 miles and the other biked 20 miles – that's some dedication!

VA Prince William Co Manassas GMU Freedom Center

VA Prince William Co Rippon Landing VRE Station

VA Prince William Co Woodbridge Chinn Center

The Chinn Center BTWD event went well, with the weather clearing up overnight. It was still humid and wet, but half of those registered attended the event. A good number of walk-ups attended, wanting to know more about BTWD and how they can participate in the future.

VA Prince William Co Woodbridge Tackett's Mill

The BTWD pit stop at Tackett's Mill shopping mall in Prince William County was quiet, but not empty. From 6 - 9AM, ten cyclists showed up, but despite the pit-stop location between two bus shelters at the commuter lot, no cyclists were commuting with OmniRide's buses. Public transit commuters asked questions, to learn more about BTWD. The area surrounding the pit stop is not bicycle-friendly, making it difficult and risky for cyclists to attend.

MANASSAS, Va. — Learning to ride a bike is a childhood milestone, but not everyone hits it at the same time. For those who miss the early window, getting started later can be tough. But at Benton Middle School, a physical education class is helping students not only learn how to ride, but also how to do it safely.

It's part of a growing push to give everyone the skills — and the confidence — to ride. In PE class at Benton, you'll want to keep an eye out for students zipping by on two wheels.
